WAREHOUSE SECRETARY SUED FOR SLANDER

Director of Warehouses Ralph M. Barker was notified Saturday that he had been sued for $50,000 damages for slander in the Federal Court at Charleston, W. Va., by Grayson D. Thornton, West Virginia warehouseman, the suit being based on a declaration by Barker, in the presence of Mr. Thornton, that certain statements made by the warehouseman were untrue.

It is said that Mr. Thornton claimed he had letters from the Burley Association offering to buy his warehouses and that Director Barker branded any such statement with the shorter and uglier word. Mr. Barker declined to discuss the President and General Manager James C. Stone, of the association, received a telegram informing him that the Connecticut Tobacco Growers' Co-operative Association had succeeded in signing up 80 per cent. of the acreage grown in that State. The telegram came from J. W. Alsop, manager of the campaign.

General Counsel Aaron Sapiro will be in Lexington, August 27, to look after some legal matters for the association.

ENGLISHMAN KEEPS YOUNG READING PAPERS

Retired member of the British bar, Sir Henry Poland, hale, hearty and still interested in life at the age of 94, attributes his longevity and mental vigor largely to having always been a great newspaper reader.

He is very fond of taking long walks about London to enjoy the beauties of the city, and recently he has chafed at the rains which have kept him indoors. "Still, one can obtain excitement enough to keep young just by reading the newspapers," he says, "for we live in stirring times."

Over twelve hundred interested spectators at League Park Sunday afternoon saw the Mammoths administer a defeat to the Mt. Sterling team by the score of 7 to 3, and slip up again to the lead in the Blue Grass League race. The game was recently organized at Chautaqua,
New York. Among the officers elected was Mrs. Robt. C. Talbott, of strated what kind of ball the Paris Paris, who was chosen as fourth vice-Townsend and Harrison, crack memplanned for the coming year, will bers of the Mt. Sterling pitching staff, were batted hard and at opportune moments, and the good support of the Paris infield and outfield helped Wills very matrially in winning the game. Wills pitched a superb game, holding the Essex team scoreless until the ninth inning, when they ran in three runs. Macke, Paris catcher, put one over the far field fence, and scored a home run. Fielding features of the game were running catches by Woods, Blake and Cicona, while slugging with the bat by outfielder Cicona, of the Paris team, and catcher Monk of Mt. Sterling, featured in the batting column. Despite the intense heat the big crowd centered their attention on the game, and watched each play with great interest. The batteries were: For Paris-Wills and Macke; for Mt. Sterling-Harrison, Townsend and Monk. Time of game, one hour and fifty-five minutes. Wells umpired.

$103 WARDROBE

This Sum Will Provide for Evening Gowns and Business Frocks, Says Bureau.

TELLS HOW EASY IT ALL IS

Series of Pamphlets Issued by Department of Agriculture Calculated to Reduce High Cost of Clothing.

Washington.-Uncle Sam, besides occupying himself with strikes, law an's clothes.

How to have a wardrobe for $108 shop, Eighth street, says: "Doan's that includes dinner and evening Kidney Pills did me a world of gowns, a smart business dress, frocks of voile and tissue, gingham for summer wear and a broadcloth coat for winter winds, is explained in a series of pamphlets issued by the Department of Agriculture, as an aid in reducing were highly colored and contained the high cost of clothing. One of these pamphlets declares that the business girl with a reasonable amount of zeal and talent, can use part of her spare time to such effect that her clothing bill is cut in half.

First she must send to the Department of Agriculture for the circulars issued by the department. One of these pamphlets explains how to make a dress form by pasting layers of gummed bundle wrapping paper over a tightly fitting vest on herself, as a model. When the paper casing is cut off and fastened together she has a "light, stiff and perfect reproduction of her form." This eliminated the purchase of a store figure.

Employee Used Form. The girl with the $108 wardrobe, a government employee, used such a

She made for $24.61 a coat of tan broadcloth with a good lining, such as she saw priced at $50 in shops. A blue voile dress with a slip, cost, including trimming, $11.09. A tissue singham dress, with organdie and hemstitching for trimming, cost $6.33; with scraps and a remnant she made another gingham dress for exactly 45

For $16 she bought materials to make a pussy willow taffeta and georgwhich she said, she could not duplicate at a store for less than $35. Her business dress of serge and crepe de chine would have been priced at $40 or more if she had purchased a dress of the same quality of material already made. Her evening dress of taffeta and silver lace cost $21, although it was modeled after one seen in a shop priced several times higher.

This wardrobe, supplemented by two dresses for which materials were purchased, brought the total up to Attended Many Affairs.

"This wardrobe, while not elaborate, enabled me to attend many affairs which, had I not sewed myself, I would have been unable to attend because of lack of a proper gown. Without the dress form I could not have done it in the time at my disposal. I made ten such forms for my friends, too."

PLATYPUS COMING TO AMERICA

Singular Mammal That Lays Eggs, on Way to Philadelphia Zoo From Australia.

Philadelphia.—The zoological gardens in Fairmount park are being prepared for the accommodation of a number of new guests, now on their way here from Australia. The most unusual of the shipment is a platypus, an egg-laying mammal.

The platypus will be the only one of its kind in this country, it is said. This species dies quickly in captivity and is related to the echidna, also an egg-laying mammal. However, the local gardens have exhibited one specimen of the echidna for eighteen years. This shipment is being sent by Ellis C. Joseph, Australian zoologist.,

SOME POLITICAL HISTORY

The recent death of W. H. (Roaring Bill) Sweeney recalls an interesting chapter of Kentucky political history in which he was a central figure in one of the most sensational and spectacular struggles ever staged in the State.

It was in the famous Music Hall Democratic State convention held in Louisville, in June, 1899, that Mr. Sweeney was put up as the Hardin candidate for temporary chairman against Judge David Redwine, the choice of the Goebel-Stone coalition. The situation was tense and excitement ran high, the final outcome depending upon the decision of Major P. P. Johnson, the State chair man, in a number of contests from counties with rival delegations claiming the right to vote in the temporary organization. The final decision of Chairman Johnson gave the coveted honor to Judge Redwine and started the riotous proceeding that lasted for over a week, during which several tragedies narrowly were averted. Mr. Sweeney never accepted his defeat for the chairmanship and the loss of the honor rankled in his bosom and changed the whole course of his life.

At the time he was the Commonwealth's Attorney of the Eleventh district but having changed his party affiliation after the Music Hall episode, he lost prestige in the Democratic district that had honored him with preferment, coming to Louisville where he had since lived to within a short time of his death. Had he won the temporary chairmanship of the memorable 1899 convention, the probabilities are that he would have been elected to Congress from the Fourth district, as he was regarded as one of the ablest men in his party with every quality to make a national lawmaker. His is another example of the failure of some to rise above a bitter personal American Bird Specialist Invades Jungles of Nicaragua.

Gets Large Collection of Rare Birds, Beasts, Fish and Reptiles-Penetrates to Villages of Sumo Indians.

Philadelphia.—Wharton Huber, assistant curator of the ornithology section of the Academy of Natural Sciences, returned recently to this city from hitherto little known regions of Nicaragua, where he assembled a large collection of birds, beasts, fish and reptiles, a number of which he believes have not yet been classified.

He also claims to have penetrated to the villages of Sumo Indians, who rarely had seen a white man. The scientist's specimens include 600 birds, 40 rare mammals and 2,000 fish, reptiles and insects, all or which will be placed on exhibition in the local in-

"My research work was done about 180 miles inland from the Nicaraguan coast," said Mr. Huber. "We established our headquarters at a small mining camp, whence we made trips farther into the country. The average annual rainfall here is 147 inches. From the time I reacned the interior until I left there never was a dry article of clothing on me. The country is infected with red bugs, smaller than fleas, which burrow under the skin and inflict serious wounds.

"I went up the Prinza Polka river for 180 miles in a pitpan, an open boat made of a hollowed-out mahogany log. Then in a smaller pitpan I ascended the Banbana river to Mininda. The district is hilly and covered with tropical forests so dense that it is impossible to enter them until a way is cut by Indians.

"The only inhabitants are a few scattered tribes of Indians apparently of Spanish and Miskito Indian descent. With a body of these Indians as guides, I penetrated to certain villages of the Sumo Incians.

"The Sumo men are very skillful hunters, but the tribe is rapidly becoming extinct. With all their ability in hunting and their courage of faction of the country doctor. QUEEN MOTHER DEFIES TIME

Alexandra of Britain Active in Spite of Her 77 Years-Puts In Busy Day.

London, England.-Queen Alexandra, the queen mother, now in her seventy-eighth year, is far more active than most women of her age. She might take life far more easily than she does, but she evidently is opposed to the idea of being laid on the shelf. She likes to show herself among the people, and she is gratified by the applause with which her appearance always is greeted. Undoubtedly it acts as a sort of psychological tonic upon her and helps her to feel as young as she looks.

She crowds many activities into a day. One day recently she appeared in public at the cart-horse parade for prizes in Regent's park, then at a concert in aid of workshops for disabled soldiers and, finally, at the Richmond horse show.

She makes, however, two concessions to advancing years, She seldom goes out of an evening, and she goes to bed early, usually playing a game of "Patience" before retiring.

Camping Party Uses Hearse for Bedroom

Frank Remlinger of Green Bay, Wis., and four friends, on a camping jaunt, use a hearse instead of the usual type of motor caravan. Only a few changes were necessary. Part of the glass side was replaced by board panels and a flooring was put in, dividing it into decks. Two of the party sleep "upstairs." and all supplies are carried below. Three of the party sleep in tents.

Rubber tires insure easy riding. No ghosts have been encountered so far, even when they camp next to a cemetery. and no matter how it storms, the hearse is snug.
